Highlights

- Chennai floods had completely devastated their Kotturpuram facility and their entire basement classrooms had to be replaced with new educational tools.
- Walls were all leaking, as the construction was old.
- About 10 lakhs spent towards renovating the classrooms in the basement, towards arresting leakages in the walls and for painting work for the facility.
- SQS had contributed to procure Machinery to prepare envelopes with adaptations to the Machinery for easy use by students.

Volunteering through Bhoomika Trust

Chennai Flood Relief Contribution was given to Bhoomika Trust.

Bhoomika Trust was set up in February 2001 and primarily works towards providing disaster relief and rehabilitation. The Trust has worked extensively with victims of natural disasters like the earthquake in Gujarat and the tsunami in South India. They continue their work in the area of providing educational assistance to children from underprivileged families and also facilitate assistance to other NGOs.
